3. PROFILE OF SKILLS AND COMPETENCES
Specialist areas of competence:
Customer advice and sales

The bank clerk independently processes customer enquiries online, by telephone and in the service areas. He/she carries out day-to-day account management activities independently. The bank clerk has appropriate knowledge of banking products and services. He/she recognises the needs of customers and advises them on the choice of products and services. In any case this includes advice on accounts, cards and savings and building loan products. The bank clerk informs customers about the relevant conditions and legal terms. He/she is involved in the conclusion of contracts for these products. He/she also supports his/her colleagues in initiating and processing insurance and securities transactions. He/she is involved in advising on different forms of financing and assists in the application process.

Payment transactions

The bank clerk handles payment transaction activities independently. These include the following: online, SEPA transfers, payment orders as well as the creation, modification and deletion of standing orders. He/she processes customer complaints or forwards them to specialists. In addition, he/she is responsible for international payment transactions and carries out foreign transfers. The bank clerk carries out cash activities independently.

Office management

The bank clerk fulfils a variety of tasks within the scope of operational communication. This includes, in particular, letter or e-mail correspondence, where he/she takes care of the text design in accordance with internal specifications (e.g. corporate design). He/she undertakes schedule management and organises customer meetings and discussions. In addition, he/she works on the workplace's external image (e.g. at events). The bank clerk also handles the incoming and outgoing mail. He/she uses the equipment of his/her work area competently.

Interdisciplinary areas of competence:
Working in an operational and professional environment

The bank clerk has basic knowledge of the operational range of services and of business, economic and ecological connections in order to organise and carry out his/her activities efficiently and sustainably. He/she acts self-competently, socially and methodically within the operational structure and process organisation and works on the tasks assigned to him/her in a solution-oriented manner appropriate to the situation based on his/her understanding of intrapreneurship. In addition, he/she has knowledge of marketing and communicates in a manner appropriate to the target group, also in English to suit the job, and acts in a customer-oriented manner.

Quality oriented, safe and sustainable work

The bank clerk applies the principles of operational quality management and is involved in the further development of operational standards. He/she reflects on his/her own approach and uses the knowledge gained from this in his/her area of responsibility. The bank clerk observes the legal and operational regulations for his/her personal safety and health at work and behaves correctly in the event of bank robberies. He/she acts appropriately in the event of accidents and injuries. Within the scope of his/her area of responsibility, he/she considers significant ecological effects of his/her activity and therefore acts in a sustainable and resource-saving manner.

Digital work

The bank clerk selects and efficiently uses the most suitable digital equipment, operational software and digital forms of communication for his/her tasks within the framework of the legal and operational requirements. He/she digitally obtains the internal and external information necessary for the processing of tasks. The bank clerk acts purposefully and responsibly based on his/her digital competence. This includes in particular the sensitive and secure handling of data in compliance with legal and operational requirements (e.g. General Data Protection Regulation).
